

Toys & Robots

Makers have made all kinds of robots, from Star Wars to Transformers and then to superheroes.

There is a chance to take a photo with Team 501 from Star Wars, chat with the producer of robots, or ask the robot to talk with you or do the laundry, cleaning, and cooking even help with your homework.

For sure there are metal toy collectors and large machines that crawl.

Dark Room

LED, LED, LED, those that light up the night sky are not just fireflies. Making bicycle tires play animation, making wishing bottles sing and shine, and remotely controlling your robot fireflies through your phone are all possible. The dark room is filled with different colors of makers' lighting projects.

Maker Fair

There are over 1000 maker organizations over the world, and among them Chinese ones contribute to the number quite a lot.

What kind of fun stuff are makers doing? You will be communicating with makers from home and abroad, getting to know their stories, and how do they achieve their goals by making ideas come true. Not only technology creations will be here, hand made products, steam punk retro vintage equipment, and traditional skills from China makers of older generation.
